Principal Sponsor Form

Singers in the New England region are some of the most skilled and experienced in the world. Many of them have launched major international careers. When a singer in New England chooses a life singing, they do so with the knowledge they will be piecing together a freelance career without of a daily routine. They are also without some other benefits such as sick leave, healthcare coverage, vacation days and worker's compensation. Many singers have contemplated moving from New England at more than one time in their careers in order to find more work or to live in an area with a lower cost of living.

As an organization that hires singers, you know the value of these musicians. The Boston Singers' Relief Fund is asking organizations that hire singers to join together in supporting these fine musicians by contributing 2% of their annual singing budget to a Fund to support singers. This money will help keep the professional singing community strong and centered in New England.

Founded in 2009, the Boston Singers' Relief Fund has given over $10,000 in grants to singers experiencing hardship. The fund has grown thanks to individual contributions and the commitment of Principal Sponsors.
